

Nexus Global Solutions Port A EUR

FACTSHEET - January 2025

Strategy Objective

The Nexus Global Solutions Portfolio is an actively managed, globally diversified, multi-asset class fund. The aim is growth over the medium term, with a dual focus on capital protection as well as capital appreciation. An understanding of macro economic conditions together with detailed research into individual securities is used to construct diversified, highly liquid portfolios, able to adapt to a unique range of market conditions.

Investment Process

The fund manager's approach to investment combines strong valuation disciplines within a long-term strategic framework, together with a willingness to adjust asset allocation and stock selection in response to short term market opportunities. The Fund is not constrained by one particular investment style such as growth or value, but instead the manager believes that the best returns are achieved by correctly positioning the portfolio to benefit at all stages of each economic cycle. The manager has the mandate to search out value in all asset classes and so is well placed to judge the relative merits of a wide range of investment opportunities.

Market Commentary

Enthusiasm over Donald Trump's US Presidential Election victory, coupled with optimism for the continuation of strong US economic growth carried into January. The month proved a fruitful one for most major equity markets. Fixed income markets also stabilised in the latter half of the month as the fears about fiscal deficits and inflation abated.

Towards the end of the month, two developments took centre stage and are poised to influence the market for some time. The first was the emergence of the Chinese AI app DeepSeek, whose creators claimed to have spent a fraction of what Open AI spends on creating and training a large language AI model, and they did it without access to Nvidia's latest and greatest GPUs. This revelation challenges the AI investment theme and questions the wisdom of the huge capital spending by the mega cap tech names in the US. The market response was sharp and quick - Nvidia fell by 17% on the day the news broke, resulting in the largest daily loss ($589 bn) for a single stock in history.

The second major development was the inauguration of Donald Trump for a second term as US President and his immediate plans to place tariffs on the exports of China, Canada, and Mexico.

Many of our investment themes came to life this month. European defence stocks did very well with returns ranging from 7 to 15% on average in January. Energy and mining names also posted high single digit gains on the month. Despite the challenge that the advent of DeepSeek poses to US tech, our technology exposure fared well with Meta up over 16% on the month for example.

Gold was a strong positive contributor as well. It can increasingly be viewed as not only an inflation hedge but a place to hide from the volatility coming out of the Trump tariff announcements. Fixed income suffered early in the month, but the second half rally left us with positive returns overall.
